

Hubbard Brook Committee of Scientists Meeting
July 14, 2017
Location: Hubbard Brook

8-8:10am: Introductions

Graduate Student and Postdoc Research Presentations: Ongoing work and plans for the future led by Ashley Lang (Hubbard Brook Graduate Student Representative)

8:10am-9:45am: Graduate student & postdoc research presentations

- 8:10-8:15: Overview by Ashley Lang
- 8:15-8:30: Rouzbeh Berton, Driscoll Lab, Syracuse
- 8:30-8:45: Jamie Harrison, Templer Lab, Boston University
- 8:45-9:00: Ashley Lang, Ayres Lab, Dartmouth
- 9:00-9:15: Liz Studer, Ayres Lab, Dartmouth
- 9:15-9:30: Yang Yang, Yanai Lab, SUNY-ESF
- 9:30-9:45: General Discussion

9:45-10am: BREAK

10-10:30am Outreach to Visitors at Hubbard Brook (Ashley Lang)

10:30am-11:30am: Break-out groups with PI's to discuss scientific and career advice

Topic areas:

- Effective strategies for securing research funding
- How students can contribute to policy and outreach
- Pros and cons of working at universities, government agencies, non-profit, or for profit organizations

11:30am-12:15pm: COS Business Meeting

- Gary Lovett (LTER): Overview of LTER Science council Meeting in May 2017
- Mary Martin (Information Management)
- Lindsey Rustad (USFS)
- Anthea Lavalley (HBRF)
- Linda Pardo (Archives)

12:15-1pm: Lunch

1-3pm: Diversity/Biogeochemistry work updates and discussion led by Nick Rodenhouse

- 1-2pm: Hydropedologic template, biogeochemistry of C, N, Ca, and P and interactions with biodiversity
- 2-3pm: Synthesis: How do we get past our current gaps in knowledge?

3pm: Close